

Activity 2

Communication Barriers in Care

One of the most important tasks for those who work in a Care setting is being able to identify the care needs that an individual might have.

Part 1 Can you think of some of the difficulties that you would face trying to assess the needs of individuals in a Care setting?

List your ideas below

Part 2 For each of the ideas you have listed above identify a method for overcoming that difficulty.